

The Wheel of My Life

Each of the categories in this wheel represents a composite of our lives. Rate yourself by shading in each section to the degree you are reaching success in that category.

Without deep and clearly defined goals of your own in each of these areas, the activities of your life will reflect the desires of those around you. Recognize that your success in all seven areas will determine the ultimate fulfillment of your Purpose, Mission, Destiny and Calling. Those will build the Legacy you leave behind.
